The regular football season has come to an end for western Oklahoma’s high school athletes. However, the State Championships are just around the corner. For all divisions, the first rounds will be held on Friday, November 14 at 7pm. Here is an overview of the seasons for your local teams to qualify for playoffs, as well as where to watch their first post-season game live or on-demand:

Weatherford Eagles
wright.media/one

The Weatherford Eagles currently sit at Rank 11 among all 4A teams in the state, with an 8-2 overall (5-2 District) record.

Of their two losses, one came from Clinton in the annual Custer County Conflict; the other loss was to the Elgin Owls, Rank 2 overall in the state’s 4A District.

Weatherford will host the Blanchard Lions in the first round. Blanchard is currently Rank 13 in the Class 4A bracket with a 5-5 win-loss record.

Clinton Red Tornadoes
wright.media/two

Clinton currently holds a 5-5 overall (5-2 District) win-loss record and stands at Rank 15 overall in Class 4A. During the 2025-26 season, the Red Tornadoes has previously defeated Weatherford and Elk City, both of which also qualified for the 4A bracket.

For their first round in the championship, Clinton will travel to face off against the Tuttle Tigers. Tuttle currently sits at the top of the 4A division, with a perfect season in both class (6-0) and overall (10-0) games.

Thomas-Fay-Custer Terriers
wright.media/three

The Thomas Terriers aren’t just Rank 2 for their Division branch; they’re also Rank 2 for the statewide A-II Division. Their only superior on the rankings board, the Mangum Tigers, was their only loss this year (8-1 Overall) in a game decided by one touchdown scored in the game’s final seconds.

The Terriers will start their post-season against the Ringling Blue Devils, Rank 17 for District A-II with a 6-4 win-loss record.

Sayre Eagles
wright.media/four

For this season, Sayre currently sits at Rank 13 in the A-1 Division Rankings, holding a 6-4 overall win-loss record.

This year, the Eagles have lost to the Thomas Terriers, Hooker Bulldogs, Cashion Wildcats, and Fairview Yellowjackets; all four teams will be competing in the A-I state championships

The Sayre Eagles will play against the Wynnewood Savages, District A-I’s Rank 4 team with a perfect 10-0 win-loss record.

You can watch these games, either live or on-demand, online at wright.media. More information about the 2025-26 football post-season, including up-to-date brackets for all schools, can be found online by visiting ossaaillustrated.com/football.

WEST OK / ELECTION CHANGES - Look forward to changes in the number of elections in Oklahoma starting next year. "Legislation passed that there will only be 5 elections per year," said Custer County Election Board Secretary Ann Brown. "And I know they're doing that for 2026, but I'd look to that [being the norm] from here on out." Brown added that she plans to seek security cameras in the future for safety purposes.

THOMAS / FIRE - Area fire crews worked to put out a fire just off County Road 930 and Highway 54. Thomas Fire Chief Kenny McGuire revealed it's unknown what caused the fire. "It started on the road somehow, not quite sure just yet, but it got probably 30 acres of grass and we're working on about 200 hay bales," explained McGuire.

WEATHERFORD PD / POISONING - Officials with Weatherford Police Department say Animal Control officers were dispatched to 101 Northwest Main Street in Weatherford Friday in reference to a report of animal cruelty. Officials found two sick feral felines. After being examined by a veterinarian, it was determined that one of the felines may have drunk anti-freeze. Since the incident, animal control officers have located several other deceased felines in the area, which may have also drank anti-freeze. Anyone with information is urged to call Weatherford police.

CK ENERGY / SCAM - Officials from CK Energy said they have been made aware of a company falsely claiming to represent CK Energy Electric Cooperative and promoting solar products and services under the CK Energy name. Officials say CK Energy Electric Cooperative is not affiliated with any solar sales or solar panel promotions.

WEATHERFORD / BOO BASH - The city of Weatherford's annual Boo Bash returned on Thursday, October 30. Economic Development Director Yolanda Creswell says an economic impact study shows how the event impacted the city: "2,000 people attended that event. [This data extended to] retail attractions, the stores and restaurants [attendees] went to," explained Creswell. The biggest turnouts were at Frida's, Braum's, Wal-Mart, and El Patio. Creswell added that Retail Attractions, an economic development consulting firm in Owasso, OK, performed several different studies, including traffic count, to provide data to the city of Weatherford.

WEATHERFORD / ROTARY - Brian Hill, a Republican State Representative who is currently running for Lt. Governor, was the guest speaker at Weatherford's most recent Rotary Club meeting. Hill's speech was primarily focused on moving Oklahoma forward. "The way we save rural Oklahoma is by investing in places like Weatherford," expressed Hill. "What happens is, when we invest in you, other small towns start to grow. Why? Because they become suburban outlets of the work that is happening here."

WEATHERFORD / YMCA - Weatherford Mayor Mike Brown says the cost continues to rise on a new community center that is planned for construction in Rader Park. "We haven't got the actual bids yet, but it looks like [the price] is closer to $40 million," Brown revealed. "I don't know if we'll break ground in 2026. Hopefully...[the building] will still be completed in 2027." The new community center will be operated by the YMCA.

Weatherford Forensics Class Walks Students Through Mock Crime Scene

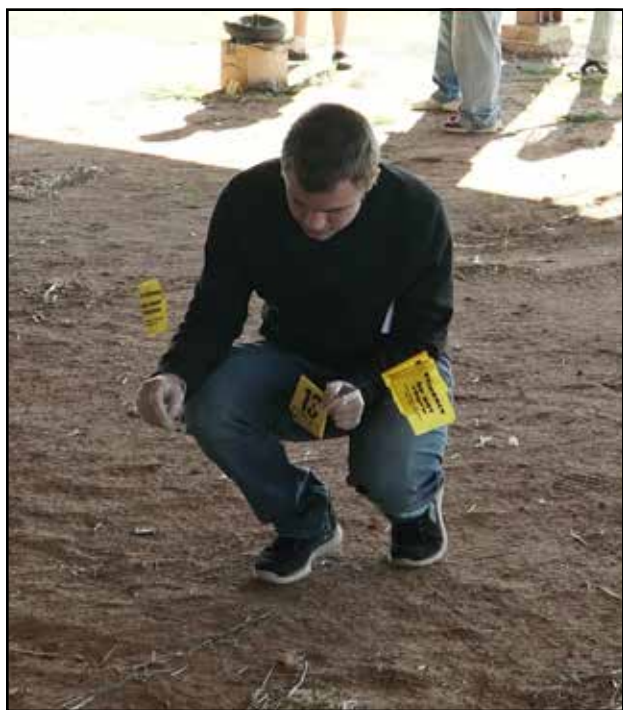

Provided

Weatherford High School forensics students take notes from Sgt. Justin Bushong. For students to create an autopsy report, Bushong provides them with some baseline information about what they should be looking for at the crime scene.

Dennis Seifried, the forensics teacher, observes students as they analyze two of the six victims present at the scene. All victims in this exercise were portrayed by fellow WHS classmates.

Examining crime scenes and finding clues, Weatherford High School's Criminal Forensics Class was on the hunt for a serial killer (an imagined one, of course) this past Wednesday. Under the direction of longtime Weatherford teacher Dennis Seifreid, who crafted the murderous plot, members of the Criminal Forensics Class canvassed Rader Park near the Doug Villines Pavillion where six students lay waiting, playing murder victims for the class to investigate.

"They're gonna have to get me a profile of who the suspect might be," said Seifried. "I've done this for 12 years, but I've never had a class solve the case."

Despite the class' losing record on solving murder mysteries, Seifried has guided many future law enforcement officers through similar faux murder cases.

Assisting Seifried was also Weatherford High School's Student Resource Officer, Justin Bushong, who helped brief the students about the fake crime scene upon their arrival to Rader Park.

“It’s good to see their eyes open up to the kind of work we do in law enforcement. It’s more than what you just see on the TV shows like CSI,” said Officer Bushong.

“The body we're at now...we think he got stabbed way over there, near the AG barn. That's why there's a blood trail...and then the killer put him down," said WHS senior Levi Vassar while describing part of the gruesome mock crime scene constructed by Seifried.

Vassar and his classmates seemed to really enjoy the investigation. “It’s Coach Seifried, you know? He’s probably one of the best teachers we could have had to teach that class,” said Vassar. “He’s watching from afar, making sure we’re doing everything right. He told us if we mess up, he’s going to let us have it, but he’s a really good teacher and this is a really fun class.”

Late Strike Lifts Ouachita Over SWOSU Bulldogs on Senior Day

A dramatic fourth-and-19 touchdown with just 1:14 remaining decided Saturday’s Paul Sharp Cup, as Ouachita Baptist stunned SWOSU Football 42-38 on SWOSU Saturday inside Milam Stadium.

The Bulldogs (5-5) saw a three-game win streak and their hopes of reclaiming the Paul Sharp Cup both slip away in the final moments. The Tigers (7-3) notched their sixth straight victory and ninth consecutive win in the series.

SWOSU appeared poised to seal the win late after rallying for a go-ahead touchdown with under three minutes to play. Quarterback MJ Rivers capped a six-play, 54-yard drive with a diving two-yard rush to give the Bulldogs a 38-35 lead.

But on the ensuing possession, Ouachita faced fourth-and-19 near midfield when its quarterback stepped up in a collapsing pocket and delivered a 51-yard strike down the middle of the field for the game-winning score. SWOSU’s final drive after the heartbreak stalled with a pair of sacks and nearly a third as time expired.

The fourth quarter was a dramatic finish to a wild, high-scoring afternoon. Tied 28-28 entering the final 15 minutes, Ouachita briefly took control after a running-into-the-kicker penalty erased a field goal and extended the drive. The Tigers capitalized on the next play to go ahead 35-28.

SWOSU answered with a 42-yard field goal from Ethan McBee, then forced a punt on the next Tiger possession thanks to Aza’in Brown’s third-down sack.

That set up Rivers’ go-ahead score before Ouachita’s late-game heroics swung the outcome back once more. The first half set an early tone for the shootout. The two teams combined for 563 yards and 49 points in the opening 30 minutes alone.

After trailing 14-0 early, the Bulldogs exploded for 28 points before halftime. Braxton Etheridge started the rally with a short touchdown run, followed by Red Martel’s 56-yard score to tie the game at 14-14. Bodie Boydston hauled in a 51-yard touchdown from Rivers to make it 21-21 after one quarter.

SWOSU’s defense forced two key turnovers before halftime to preserve a 28-21 lead. Shane Armstrong forced a fumble recovered by Kelton Moore, and Malcolm Murphy added an interception in the red zone to halt another Tiger drive.

SWOSU’s offense cooled off after the break, managing just 34 yards in the third quarter as Ouachita pulled even. The fourth quarter then featured three lead changes and the dramatic finish.

The Bulldogs narrowly outgained Ouachita 449–426, surpassing the 440-yard mark for the third consecutive week. SWOSU’s defense also posted a season-high six sacks, but nine penalties and a fourth-quarter interception proved costly.

Rivers finished with 173 passing yards, 114 rushing yards, and three total touchdowns. Martel added 108 yards on 16 carries — his third 100-yard outing of the year. Armstrong anchored the defense with a season-high 13 tackles, two sacks, and three tackles for loss.

SWOSU (5-5, 5-5 GAC) closes out the regular season next Saturday at rival Northwestern. A win would clinch the program’s first winning season since 2015.
