Various Local Election Across Western Oklahoma Have Been Called

Mike Smith
News Director

A number of important elections were recently held across western Oklahoma, and the results have been announced.

In the Weatherford School District, Matthew Fast, who was appointed to the Weatherford School Board of Education, has won the election to seat 1 by getting 63% of the vote over Brandy Chase Tuesday.

"It's not a position I take lightly," said Fast. "I'm excited to remain on the board as we transition to new leadership for the school."

Also in Weatherford, Kyle King won seat 4 over Lisa Grant by getting 58% of the vote. "I didn't know how [the election] would go," admitted King. "I just wanted to do the right thing for Weatherford by supporting our staff, our administration, and our students."

In the Clinton School District, voters approved a

$2 million school bond for Clinton Public Schools by giving the proposition nearly 82% support. According to Superintendent Tyler Bridges, the bond allows the district to conduct more improvements for underserved areas of the city, as well as open up the potential for bonds on projects the city "wants to do" rather than "needs to do."

Additionally, Caralea Kriezenbeck got 79% support in her run on the Clinton School Board of Education. The franchise agreement for ONG in the city of Clinton received 87% support.

In the Cordell School District, Danielle Dick Ivey and Cole Gregg won seats on the Cordell School Board of Education.

Meanwhile, in Sayre, OK, the franchise proposition in the city of Sayre for Public Service Company of Oklahoma (PSO) got 84% support.

RFBO: Sam's Club Launches "Fight Hunger, Spark Change" Campaign

Cherrie Nutley
SWODA Obudsman Supervisor

For the 11th straight year, the Walmart and Sam's Club Fight Hunger, Spark Change campaign returns to central and western Oklahoma to support the Regional Food Bank of Oklahoma.

The campaign, which runs through April 29, partners Walmart and Sam's Club suppliers, customers and members all in an effort to help provide food assistance to Oklahomans living with hunger.

"Walmart and Sam's Club stores are two of the Regional Food Bank's most important partners," said Stacy Dykstra, chief executive of the Regional Food Bank. "Not only do they consistently provide enough donations for thousands of meals each year through the Fight Hunger, Spark Change, campaign, they also consistently rank as one of the Regional Food Bank's top retail recovery partners that helps keep the shelves and freezers stocked at our partners across our 53-county service area."

To support the Regional Food Bank, customers and members shopping at Walmart and Sam's Clubs can look for specially marked products from these participating suppliers:

Walmart: Bush Brothers & Company; CELSIUS® Essential Energy Drink; The Coca-Cola Company; Conagra Brands; Dole Packaged Foods; Ferrara; Ferrero; General Mills; Hain Celestial; Hershey Salty Snacks; Hidden Valley Ranch; Kellanova; W.K. Kellogg Company; Keurig Dr Pepper; Kodiak; Kraft Heinz; Monster Energy; Pepsi-Cola Advertising & Marketing, Inc.; Unilever.

Sam's Club: General Mills; W.K. Kellogg Company; Kraft Heinz; Nestlé; Nissin; Nongshim; Palmetto Gourmet Foods, A Borealis Foods Company; Unilever.

Last year, the campaign raised $258,314 for the Regional Food Bank. For more information, visit rfbo.org.

Customers can participate in three ways:

1. By donating at check-out in stores or clubs or round up at Walmart.com and the Walmart app.
2. By purchasing participating products in-store or online at Walmart.com or SamsClub.com. For every purchase of a participating product, the supplier will donate the monetary equivalent of at least one meal ($0.10) on behalf of a Feeding America partner food bank at Walmart and five meals ($0.50) at Sam's Club.
3. By donating at Feeding America's Fight Hunger, Spark Change, campaign donation site at either FeedingAmerica.org/Walmart or FeedingAmerica.org/SamsClub.

The Regional Food Bank of Oklahoma is leading the fight against hunger in 53 counties in central and western Oklahoma and envisions a state where no one goes hungry. Founded in 1980, the Regional Food Bank is the state's largest domestic hunger-relief 501(c)(3) nonprofit that distributes food through a network of community-based partner agencies and schools.

The majority of people served by the Regional Food Bank are chronically hungry children, seniors living on fixed incomes and hardworking families struggling to make ends meet. The Regional Food Bank is a member of Feeding America, the nation's network of food banks. To join the fight to end hunger, visit rfbo.org.

...Thy Will Be Done.

Jim Morrison

In a previous article we shared about the meaning of the "Kingdom of God." After we have established the rule and reign of God in our lives it is only natural that Jesus would continue the prayer with the phrase "Thy will be done."

Millions have quoted those words without the faintest idea of what God's will is or without any intention whatever of seeing to it that our Father's will is done; even if they did know it. We do not intend to have God's will be done. It just becomes a pious phrase.

Yet the truth is that doing the will of God is the most important activity in all the world. Jesus himself said that it was this reason that he had come to earth. (John 6:38) "For I came down from heaven not to do my will but the will of Him who sent me."

WHAT IS THE WILL OF GOD? Simply put it is God's intentions, desires, and plans which He would like to see fulfilled. God's will permeates every area of our life; not only in the affairs of man but also in the orderly, physical laws and forces of the universe. If we are to recognize and acknowledge His will we will recognize and acknowledge Him. To ignore and repudiate His will is to ignore and repudiate Him.

The character of God is of such superb quality that we feel comfortable giving Him our total trust and wholehearted cooperation. If our confidence is in the person and character of God, it must be likewise in His will. There should be no doubt in our mind that if God is good, if he is reasonable, if he is compassionate, then his will is of the same quality as His character.

But many of us will say we love Him and then fear His will. We claim to trust Him yet react against His will. Because of the beauty of His behavior, and the quality of his character, His will is bound to be good and acceptable. In Eph. 1:9-10 in the Phillips translation it reads "For God has allowed us to know the secret of his plan, and it is this: He purposes in His sovereign will that all human history shall be consummated in Christ, that everything that exists in Heaven or earth shall find its perfection and fulfillment in Him."

How do we know the will of God? What are his instructions for us to live out our lives? Largely they are found in His word, the Scriptures. How often we neglect the very thing that would most clearly tell us how to conduct our relationships with our mates, our business matters, and our neighbors. He has our best interests at heart. He is not trying to keep something from us. Psalms 119 presents a beautiful picture of the beauty of learning the will of God from His word. Vs. 32-37, 47, 66-68, 71-72, 133.

It is not enough to know the will of God; we must comply with it. "Not everyone who says unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of Heaven but he who does the will of my Father which is in heaven." (Matt 7:21) The Holy Spirit who dwells within us energizes us to do God's will. But this is only on the condition that we cooperate with Him. (Phil.2:13) "For it is God who works in you both to will and to do of His good pleasure."

I found the preceding material in my file. It sounds too good for it to be original with me but I don't know who to give credit. I just felt that the truths too good to be kept in the files where no one would read them. Hopefully some of you will benefit from it. To God and from his mind it came be the glory.

Tottress and Berger Have Been Named Newest Bulldogs of the Week

Grant Kopycinski

Sports Information Graduate Asst.

Torri Tottress (track and field) and Libby Berger

(rodeo) have been named the newest Bulldogs of the Week. The weekly student-athlete recognition is brought to you by Wright Media, the home of SWOSU Athletics for both livestream and radio.

Tottress (Wagoner, Okla.) set a new personal record at the Friends Spring Invite last week. Her 12.35-meter throw in shot put was a new collegiate best for the freshman. The throw was good enough to place her fourth in the event, which was tied for the highest event finish by a SWOSU competitor at the meet

Berger (Udall, Kan.) claimed the lone win for SWOSU rodeo at the Garden City Rodeo over the weekend. She competed in barrel racing, where she took home first place. Berger had times of 13.57 (1st) and 13.61 (6th) in the two rounds and those times won her the average for the event.

Oklahoma History: Sam and Belle Starr and the "Younger's Bend"

The historic marker for Younger's Bend.

Belle's headstone and encasing.

Chase Wright
Staff Writer

Nestled amidst the rugged expanse of the Oklahoma landscape, Younger's Bend stands as a testament to the untamed spirit of the American frontier. Here, along the meandering banks of the Canadian River, echoes of outlawry and legend resonate through the ages as history converges with myth to weave a tale as captivating as the Wild West itself. It's in this fabled setting that the enigmatic Belle Starr, renowned as the "Bandit Queen," etched her name into the annals of Western lore.

We've covered Belle Starr's early life and story in the past as it unfolded against the backdrop of a tumultuous era, where lawlessness and adventure were the currency of the land. Now, we'll take a look into the final stages of her life, specifically at the beautiful area they found 100 miles east of Oklahoma City. In an aim to find refuge she and her first husband, Jim Reed, a Confederate guerrilla and outlaw, traversed the border states through Oklahoma Territory and settled upon a place in Eufaula, OK.

Younger's Bend, situated along the Canadian River served as more than just a hideout for Belle and her cohorts. It was a haven amidst the rolling hills and dense foliage.

Other legendary bandits spent time with the couple as they hid out from the law, including their friends from the James-Younger Gang. Among their ranks were Cole Younger, that solidified her reputation as the "Bandit Queen," the famous Jesse James, and his brother Frank.

Together, they sought refuge in the remote sanctuary where the untamed wilderness offered shelter from the relentless pursuit of justice. As Belle's legend grew, so too did the allure of Younger's Bend. Visitors to the area can still trace the remnants of her farmstead, where the echoes of frontier life linger in the breeze. It's a place where history and myth converge. Amidst the intrigue of Younger's Bend, Belle Starr's final resting place serves as a poignant reminder of her enduring legacy. Here her gravesite stands as a testament to the indomitable spirit of the "Bandit Queen" and the timeless allure of the American frontier. Nearby is a recreation of the cabin that was once her home. She was buried here after her unsolved murder in 1889, her grave is located under a shaded grove.

The death of Starr is one of the enduring mysteries of the American frontier. With various theories abounding, one theory has testimonies that at her funeral her then husband Jim July Starr accused the man Edgar J. Watson by brandishing a revolver at him. Watson was arrested and tried, but ultimately dismissed as there were issues with the disconnected evidence. Members close to Starr and Watson continued to believe he was guilty, but her murder remains an unsolved mystery.

At her funeral, hundreds attended, and she was buried in her deep black riding outfit and pistol. Not a month had gone by before her grave was robbed. To preserve her mother's resting place, her daughter Pearl had sandstone slabs placed over her site. An engraver visited the home Pearl was staying in and offered to engrave her headstone. J. Daly engraved an inscription of Belle's name, dates of birth and death, and a poem penned underneath that is attributed to Pearl.

Above the inscription, he adorned her headstone with several symbolic images: a stylized image of a horse in a prominent position on the slab, flanked by the etchings of a pistol and a rose giving visual symbolism to her association with outlawry and her legacy of beauty and remembrance. Today, visitors to Younger's Bend can step into a history in the quiet recluse. To see a glimpse into the final calm Belle sought as she expressed a desire to withdraw from society into the rugged wilderness.

After Friday's defeat, The Bulldogs forced the rubber match against OBU on Saturday, but fell in a deciding game three 10-2 to conclude the series.

Tied 6-6 in the fifth, Geoff Marlow and Campbell Sullivan homered, highlighting a five-run seventh that allowed the Dawgs to regain control. Runs from Marco Barrera and Burke kept SWOSU on top.

Josh Fluet got the start on the mound and pitched into the fourth. Four arms made appearances from there. Grant Ewy replaced Fluet and provided the longest outing of any arm by getting into the seventh. Tyler Fortin was given the win with his appearance in the seventh. Burke finished 3-5 on the day to lead a lineup that finished with 12 collectively. OBU, 14.

Game One – Oklahoma Baptist 10, SWOSU 4
 After one third of the game, the Dawgs found themselves trailing by double digits. The tough two frames came after a first inning by Reece Parker that required just eight pitches to retire the side.

SWOSU answered with two runs in the top of the fourth. Ty Eastwood homered to lead it off, and Jackson Syring eventually came around to score after doubling right after. In the eighth, Marco Barrera doubled and scored from a wild pitch before Geoff Marlow belted a home run down the left field line.

Five Bulldog arms saw action on the night. Parker lasted 2.1 innings giving way to the bullpen. Josh Rains, Jackson Blue, and Sawyer Rolland combined to throw a scoreless back half of the game in relief. The bats had six hits in the game. Marlow had a two-hit night. 12 of OBU's 14 came in their two scoring innings.

Game Three – Oklahoma Baptist 10, SWOSU 2

Jackson Syring's RBI double in the first inning and solo home run in the third had the Dawgs tied with Oklahoma Baptist 2-2 through three. A 5-run fifth by the Bison shifted momentum that never changed. A weather delay paused action in the bottom of the fifth for nearly two hours. OBU went on to plate three more runs afterwards to seal the result.

Jackson Phillips was handed his second loss of the season. He went four innings before getting relieved by Tyler Leachner who pitched the final six outs. Ty Eastwood and Reece Burke matched Syring with two hits. Both also doubled in the contest.

Game Two – SWOSU 14, Oklahoma Baptist 11

The Dawgs used a five-run first inning and scored another eight through the final three frames to beat the Bison in a slugfest. SWOSU hit five home runs in the game, headed by Reece Burke who had two of them. Eight of SWOSU's 14 runs came courtesy of the longball. OBU had four home runs themselves, all solo shots.

SWOSU returns to the field to host Southern Arkansas in continued conference play. Friday will feature the doubleheader portion of the series before Saturday concludes with the third and final game.

OBU Bison Hurt Lady Dawgs in 3-0 Series Loss

Jon Chidester
SWOSU Asst. AD

SWOSU Softball fell thrice this weekend to Oklahoma Baptist, final scores 0-8, 14-4, and 13-1.

The Bulldogs (12-26, 8-15 GAC) will go on the road Tuesday for a matchup with Northwestern before traveling across state lines next weekend to face Southern Arkansas. SWOSU's first game against the Rangers Tuesday will be a conference game.

Game Two – Oklahoma Baptist 14, SWOSU 4

SWOSU's bats produced 12 hits in the game but it was outdone by the Bison who had 16. After falling behind early, SWOSU used a three-run fifth to get within two runs trailing just 6-4 before the visitors eventually pushed their lead back out to double digits.

Three doubles accounted for all four runs for the Bulldogs in the game. Jady Hook doubled in Chesnie Hewitt in the fourth for the first run of the game. Hewitt had tripled two batters prior. After SWOSU's surge, OBU answered with a five-spot the next half inning and added three more in the seventh. The Bison hit three home runs in the game accounting for seven of their runs.

Dani Carmo led the lineup with a 3-4 day at the plate. She was one of five Bulldogs to have an extra-base hit in the contest. In the fifth, Riley Lusk and Skyla McPhillips had back-to-back doubles to plate three more runs. Courtney Hill started in the circle and pitched six full innings. Serra Stoliby finished the game with an inning in the seventh.

Game One – Oklahoma Baptist 8, SWOSU 0

The Bison, who entered the day atop the conference standings and receiving votes in the D2 NFCA Poll, used three long balls and another two doubles to provide plenty of offense for their starting pitcher. Five of OBU's nine hits went for extra bases in the contest.

The visitors jumped on the scoreboard in the first inning with a two-out RBI double, plated four more in the third off four hits, and finished their scoring in the fifth with three runs including back-to-back solo home runs.

Game Three – Oklahoma Baptist 13, SWOSU 1

Another big Bison first inning plagued SWOSU in the finale. OBU opened up an early 5-0 lead after sending 11 to the plate and racking up five hits in the first frame. They used another four runs in the fourth and fifth to break the game open.

SWOSU's lone run came in the bottom of the first inning. Maddie Rahon singled and was brought in by an RBI double from Katie Boline. The Dawgs finished with four hits in the game.

Kaylee Barkley pitched four innings to start the game. Blaire Gentry relieved her in the fifth.

SWOSU had runners on base in four of the five innings but could not find the timely hit needed to scratch runs across. The Bulldogs ended the day with eight left on base, though OBU stranded 11 themselves.

Jady Hook had two hits from the lead off spot. She walked in her third at-bat to finish off a successful day at the plate.

Blaire Gentry (L, 8-11) exited the circle in the third inning after allowing five runs. Lauren Bratcher relieved her for the next two innings before Cierah Jones came on in the fifth to get the final out.
